

Healthy Accountability Activation Workshops

Designed for organizations that have completed the Pathway to Healthy Accountability™ Workshop

- Workshops are designed for 12-20 participants. This number fosters healthy conversation where all attendees may actively participate while including enough people to begin creating change in an organization.
- Each workshop will have a pre and post-meeting with a Steering Team from your organization and Good Leadership.
- Workshops are most effective when everyone is in-person. If that is not possible, connect with the Good Leadership team to discuss how to be most effective in a virtual setting.
- Workshops are 3-hours including time for group discussions, in-room polling, and time to work through challenges that surface.
- Workshops include a PDF workbook to be printed by your organization for participants.

Activation workshops begin with The Language of Healthy Accountability which lays the foundation for learning in subsequent workshops:

The Place to Start: The Language of Healthy Accountability

Accountability starts with communication. This module explores how language shapes perceptions and behaviors, and how team members can use clear, respectful, and solution-focused communication to build a culture of healthy accountability with personal ownership. Participants will practice shifting from low accountability to high accountability dialogue that uses constructive conversations to foster clarity and healthy accountability.

Workshop Objectives:

1. Discover the impact of language on a culture of accountability.
2. Practice high accountability communication techniques.
3. Learn how negotiating shared commitments and using healthy tension encourage personal ownership.

Recommended Audience:

Influential people in the organization who want to be early adopters – best to have a mix of individual contributors to C-suite leaders

It put all of the pieces together that I've been seeking for a long time.
